

Good morning everyone. I hope you are all well on this beautiful sunny morning.

I have magpie'd an idea from Mr Dixon (I'm sure he won't mind). Now that you have read your report, I would like you to complete a report for me. Yes, That's right! You get to give me an end of year report. It should contain what I have done well and what needs improving. Also, if you could change anything about last year, what would it be. You can simply type this into Class Dojo messages, or you could write it and take a picture. I look forward to receiving your comments!

For maths, I want you to go on an angle hunt. Refresh your memory of angles (no angels please) by heading to BBC Bitesize.

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/topics/zb6tyrd/articles/zg68k7h>

I would then like you to compile a list of angles. Acute, right and obtuse and tell me what they are. Example - Right angle - corner of the room.

For all you nature lovers, head over to the WWF website and learn about the damaging effects of plastic on our oceans. I would like you to keep a diary of plastic use throughout the week to see how much plastic we really use. I would also like you to think about one way you could reduce this. Remember, every little bit helps so even using a bag for life when you go shopping helps reduce the amount of plastic we use.

https://www.wwf.org.uk/learn/love-nature/plastics?dm_i=38LF,11Y30,6K6HX9,40ZKJ,1#planet

For reading this week, I would like you to research your favourite author. One of mine is David Litchfield who wrote 'The Bear and the Piano'. You can read all about him here.

<https://www.davidlitchfieldillustration.com/portfolio/the-bear-and-the-piano/>

Find out why and when they started writing. You may be inspired to write your own short story, or illustrate an existing one!

As always, read, practise your times tables and stay safe.

Thank you Year 4 (and parents) for all of your hard work. You are AMAZING!

x