

Hello everyone. Three more weeks to go until the end of term. Where has the time gone!?

I wanted to say how much I have missed you all. I am so sad that we didn't get to spend the rest of the term together. However, I am happy that I was able to see some of you on Friday when I delivered your report. I hope there were some happy faces (from you and parents).

This week, I would like you to go to the following website and complete the lessons.

<https://classroom.thenational.academy/schedule-by-year/year-4>

I have had a look through and they are all online which I think might help. The great thing about this website is there are lessons for each day so plenty to keep you busy and your brains ticking over!

I would also like you to write a recommendation for either a book you have read or a film you have watched. Tell me what was good, not so good and why you would or wouldn't recommend this book or film. I may be persuaded!

Please, please, please keep on working on your times tables. Use TTRS or hit the button. It will help you so much when you return to school.

One final thing I would like you to do. Do something special for a member of your family. Make them a card, tidy your room without being asked or just be extra thankful and polite! Whatever it is, I am sure you will make someone's day!

Take care everyone. xxx
